County Engineer Greg Sketch told the Boone County Fiscal Court on Nov. 9 the road is a connector road between Limaburg Road and North Bend Road. He said it will intersect with the intersection of Gateway Boulevard at a signal there.

"It's a short (road), maybe about 250-300 feet," he said.

The project's estimated cost is $307,000. A federal grant will pay 75 percent of the project and the local match is 25 percent.

The sidewalk may only be on one side of the access road.
